

Students with Parental Responsibilities Policy

Advice to Students who become pregnant or whose partners become pregnant during their Course of Study

This document was approved by the University Board for Teaching and Learning on 28 April 2015. The purpose of this document is to ensure that if you or your partner becomes pregnant while you are a student at the University of Reading you know where to seek advice about your/their health, the health of your child and the management of your course of study.

For students in the Henley Business School, references to 'School' shall be construed as 'programme area', references to 'Head of School' shall be construed as Head of Programme Area, and references to 'to ' your pregnancy.

5. If you make the decision to terminate your pregnancy there i were a required part of a programme and were considered to constitute a high level risk to your health and safety or the health and safety of your child e.g. modules that involve the use of chemicals contra-indicated for pregnant women, where the learning outcomes of the module could not be achieved without exposure to that risk.

11. It is important that you meet regularly with your Academic Tutor or designated member of staff to assess the effectiveness of any special arrangements which have beeBTc your programme of study, including the examination schedule. You are required to ta

